INTRODUCTION

Investor protection is one of the key priorities of the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO). The World Investor Week (WIW) is an initiative of IOSCO to raise awareness about the importance of investor education and protection. The WIW is conducted in the week that covers the first Monday of October of each year, although the participating jurisdictions are allowed to conduct WIW-related activities in any other week of October or November. During the WIW, a diversity of outreach activities is carried out by participating IOSCO member jurisdictions.

By using the IOSCO network to facilitate a coordinated and, therefore, more powerful approach, the IOSCO WIW also provides a framework for individual jurisdictions to publicize their investor education and protection initiatives and to deliver more tailored messaging within their jurisdictions.

In October 2023, IOSCO, with the support of other organizations, carried out the seventh edition of WIW and achieved outstanding results, surrounded by different developments in the market, such as increased digitalization, the emergence of new products and services, or an increasing participation of retail investors in the capital markets around the world.

In this context, the 2023 campaign focused on three main themes: Investor Resilience, Crypto Assets, and Sustainable Finance, which the IOSCO Board has identified as particularly relevant given current and expected global market conditions. Other themes cover Frauds and Scams Prevention, Basics of Investing, and Technology and Digital Finance.

This report compiles the information provided by the different participants in the 2023 campaign. The report describes real examples of the variety of activities organized and conducted by different participating jurisdictions in 2023, thus providing a useful guide to the range of activities that participating jurisdictions could undertake in future WIW campaigns, but also translate into their current or future financial education and investor protection initiatives.

IOSCO members and interested stakeholders are invited to participate in the WIW and the forthcoming WIW campaign of 2024. Please feel free to visit the WIW website (https://www.worldinvestorweek.org) and contact us at: worldinvestorweek@iosco.org

1 The International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) is the international body that brings together the world’s securities regulators and is recognized as the global standard setter for the securities sector. IOSCO develops, implements and promotes adherence to internationally recognized standards for securities regulation.
THE IOSCO WORLD INVESTOR WEEK

The IOSCO World Investor Week is a week-long, global campaign to raise awareness of the importance of investor education and protection, and to highlight the various initiatives of securities regulators in these two critical areas.

WIW has two primary objectives, namely (i) to disseminate key messages that support investor education, investor protection and financial literacy; and (ii) to foster learning opportunities for investors. The campaign also aims at strengthening collaboration among IOSCO members on investor education and protection initiatives and raising IOSCO’s visibility among key international stakeholders.

The WIW 2023 was conducted from 2 to 8 October, although some jurisdictions conducted WIW-related activities in other weeks of October and November 2023. The key messages of the IOSCO WIW campaign in 2023 were based on three themes: 1) Investor Resilience, 2) Crypto Assets and 3) Sustainable Finance. These themes were complemented by three other key messages related to Frauds and Scams Prevention, Basics of Investing, and Technology and Digital Finance.

IOSCO securities regulators and other IOSCO members from six continents undertook a range of activities, such as offering investor-focused information, promoting contests to increase awareness of investor education initiatives, organizing workshops and conferences, and conducting local/national campaigns in their jurisdictions, including through digital or virtual means.

The dedicated campaign website (http://www.worldinvestorweek.org) was also used by the participants to promote their activities. The IOSCO Committee 8 (C8) and its C8 WIW Working Group coordinated different global events or webinars. A summary of Global and Regional events held in WIW 2023 is presented in Annex 1 and 2 of this report.

A total of 118 jurisdictions participated in WIW 2023. Different global and regional organizations endorsed or supported WIW (see next section on “Supporters”).

At the national level, in addition to the securities regulators, other participants supported the 2023 WIW campaign, such as self-regulatory organizations, industry associations and market participants, other financial authorities and different stakeholders (e.g. universities, schools).
WIW 2023 RESULTS

The overall WIW results of the campaign 2023 that are presented in this section are based on the survey responses provided by the national WIW coordinators on a voluntary basis. In addition, national coordinators were expected to prepare a public report on the campaign in their jurisdictions. The local public reports are part of this Public Report.

ABOUT IOSCO

The International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) is the international body that brings together the world’s securities regulators and is recognized as the global standard setter for the securities sector. IOSCO develops, implements, and promotes adherence to internationally recognized standards for securities regulation. It works intensively with the G20 and the Financial Stability Board (FSB) on the global regulatory reform agenda.

IOSCO members have resolved:

• to cooperate in developing, implementing and promoting adherence to internationally recognized and consistent standards of regulation, oversight and enforcement in order to protect investors, maintain fair, efficient and transparent markets, and seek to address systemic risks;

• to enhance investor protection and promote investor confidence in the integrity of securities markets, through strengthened information exchange and cooperation in enforcement against misconduct and in the supervision of markets and market intermediaries; and

• to exchange information at both global and regional levels on their respective experiences in order to assist the development of markets, strengthen market infrastructure and implement appropriate regulation.

IOSCO believes the need for investor education and financial literacy has never been greater than today. As the financial marketplace continues to evolve and innovate, investment products are becoming increasingly complex and financial services increasingly diverse. Retail investors require a greater understanding of key financial concepts to comprehend and evaluate the choices available to them and to avoid financial fraud. Strengthening investor education and financial literacy programs also is essential at a time when responsibility for saving and investing for retirement is shifting from the employer to the individual in many jurisdictions.
The C8 WIW is led by CVM - Brazil. Members of the WIW Working Group in 2023 included: Comissão do Mercado de Capitais (ANGOLA), Comisión Nacional de Valores (ARGENTINA), Australian Securities and Investments Commission (AUSTRALIA), Comissão de Valores Mobiliários (BRAZIL), China Securities Regulatory Commission (CHINA), Bundesanstalt für Finanzdienstleistungsaufsicht (GERMANY), Securities and Futures Commission (HONG KONG SAR), Indonesia Financial Services Authority (INDONESIA), Israel Securities Authority (ISRAEL), Commissione Nazionale per le Società e la Borsa (ITALY), Financial Services Agency (JAPAN), Japan Securities Dealers Association (JAPAN), Jersey Financial Services Commission (JERSEY), Securities Commission (MALAYSIA), Comisión Nacional Bancaria y de Valores (MEXICO), Ontario Securities Commission (ONTARIO), Autorité des marchés financiers (QUEBEC), Financial Supervisory Authority (ROMANIA), Capital Market Authority (SAUDI ARABIA), Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores (SPAIN), Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (UNITED STATES OF AMERICA), Securities and Exchange Commission (UNITED STATES OF AMERICA), with the support of the IOSCO General Secretariat.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: Comisión Nacional de Valores (CNV) of Argentina
Other IOSCO members: N/A
Other participants: Markets, Stock Exchanges, agents, rating agencies, capital market participants and their representative chambers, professional associations, foundations and universities

The Comisión Nacional de Valores (CNV) of Argentina has celebrated the World Investor Week 2023 ("Semana Mundial de las Inversoras y los Inversores 2023") from October 2nd to 8th, with special emphasis on four major thematic areas: investor protection (prevention of fraud and scams) associated with the promotion of financial inclusion with a gender perspective, sustainable finance, fintech and digital assets, and basic notions for investments.

This year, the World Investor Week in Argentina had the support of more than 36 public and private sector organizations, as well as educational institutions and other civil society entities, who participated through the various activities of the program.

The different presentations and activities had the firm purpose of continuing to develop and expand the capital market through financial education and the protection of retail investors, acknowledging the impact of innovation and new technologies on capital markets, and taking into account a gender and sustainable finance perspective, aimed both at the general public as well as more sophisticated investors.

The official opening ceremony was held on October 2nd. The panel was led by the President of the CNV, Sebastián Negri, a member of the Board of the CNV, Mónica Erpen and CNV officials that work in areas related to investor protection, innovation and gender.

The Argentina WIW’s agenda was promoted on the website http://www.cnv.gov.ar/semanamundialdelinversor and on the CNV’s social networks (Instagram, Twitter and Linkedin).

Along the WIW were held several online conferences and workshops covering a wide range of topics, such as SME participation in capital markets, IT & cybersecurity on capital markets, prevention of fraud and scams, personal finances, investors’ education and sustainable finance.

Thirty-nine activities were performed live and recorded throughout the week, many of which remain available today on public access video platforms (Youtube).

For the fourth time, due to the pandemic and the epidemiological context, mostly all the activities were carried out online, which allowed the number of attendees to be expanded throughout the country.

IOSCO WIW 2023 Report - Argentina
INCLUSIÓN FINANCIERA

La inclusión financiera es el estado en el cual todos los adultos tienen acceso efectivo a los siguientes productos de servicios financieros formales: cuentas, créditos, pagos, seguros e inversiones (G20’s Global Partnership for Financial Inclusion).

Acceso Efectivo: implica una prestación de servicios conveniente y respetable que responda a las necesidades de los clientes excluidos y/o desatendidos, a un costo accesible para los clientes y sostenible para los proveedores formales.

El mercado de capitales puede acompañar los procesos de inclusión financiera en la medida en que las pymes y empresas excluidas o sub-atendidas pueden acceder a productos de inversión que satisfacen sus necesidades, potencian su uso y encuentran nuevas formas de financiamiento.

Índice de sustentabilidad

Evalúa anualmente el desempeño de las emisoras en cuatro pilares:

- Ambiental
- Social
- Gobernance Corporativa
- Desarrollo (concentración en los ODS).

During the seventh edition of World Investor Week, the FSMA carried out various activities:

- The FSMA launched a nationwide anti-fraud campaign aimed at raising awareness about investment fraud and fraudulent providers. A series of tongue-in-cheek videos[1] and online ads in both Dutch and French armed the public with tips on how to avoid traps set by scammers as well as how to remain critical of fraudulent offers. Audiences were also encouraged to take the fraud test on www.wikifin.be, the FSMA’s financial education website. The campaign ran for six weeks, over the course of which it successfully reached nearly 3.7 million impressions across various platforms such as TV-on-demand, Facebook, Instagram and YouTube.

- The campaign led to an 80% increase in the number of consumer questions the FSMA received in October and November 2023, as compared to the same period the previous year. These included questions from consumers who had doubts about a possibly fraudulent offer as well as reports of actual cases of fraud. This considerable increase emphasizes the importance of raising awareness of investment fraud and attests to the trust that consumers place in the FSMA.

- The launch of the anti-fraud campaign also saw great interest from the Belgian press. The campaign featured in nearly 40 newspapers, online news articles, and television and radio newscasts.

- In addition to the campaign, the FSMA also actively posted a series of organic posts on its LinkedIn and Twitter accounts, drawing investors' attention to investment fraud and the basic principles of investing without taking undue risks while also covering topics such as recovery room fraud and cryptocurrencies.

- In his capacity as IOSCO Chair, the FSMA’s Chairman Jean-Paul Servais delivered a prerecorded message for the Ring the Bell for Financial Literacy ceremony in Warsaw (Poland): https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dtvBEDplzSQ

- On the occasion of the launch of WIW and the EU/OECD framework for youth financial literacy, the FSMA welcomed Carmine Di Noia, Director for Financial and Enterprise Affairs at the OECD, at the Wikifin Lab, the FSMA’s interactive center for financial education. Mr. Servais and Mr. Di Noia jointly recorded a video message to mark the occasion.
Throughout the week, the FSMA prominently featured the WIW logo on its homepage and disseminated two press releases announcing the initiative in Dutch, French and English (www.fsma.be).

Right after the Ring the Bell Ceremony, several panels on financial education were held in the B3 auditorium. At the opening of the lecture cycle, Nathalie Vidual, CVM’s Director of Investor Protection and Assistance, emphasized the CVM’s choice to work on financial literacy:

“We understand that financial literacy is a path to achieving long-awaited financial resilience. We know that Brazil has a structural education gap, which leads to low levels of financial literacy, especially among economically vulnerable groups. We cannot expect these young, future adults, to make intelligent financial decisions if we don’t provide them with basic knowledge. The CVM wants to guarantee adequate financial literacy, and therefore continues to encourage financial education initiatives, such as the World Investor Week Campaign.”

Nathalie Vidual, Director of Investor Protection and Assistance at CVM

The panels consisted of the following themes:

- Financial education for people living on the peripheries (favela).
- Financial education: how to start practicing it.
- The Common National Curricular Base (BNCC) and the challenges of the Ministry of Education (MEC) in implementing financial education in schools.
- Financial Education Program in the Brazilian School System— The Program and its applicability/presentation of cases on the topic (SEBRAE).
- The Future of Education (Google).

2. Ceremony at the Christ the Redeemer Statue

On the night of October 2nd, Christ the Redeemer Statue was illuminated in blue, green, and yellow lights, representing the colors of World Investor Week.

The objective was to disseminate information on crypto origins, crypto fundamentals, regulation applied to crypto assets, and mechanisms to avoid cryptocurrency scams.

The episodes are available on the audio platforms and YouTube channels of ABCripto and CVM (@CVMEducacional). The initiative is part of a technical cooperation agreement signed this year between the institutions, intending to develop actions on financial education, in addition to the idealization of campaigns and educational materials to retail investors on new financial technologies, especially decentralized finance (DeFi) and other applications related to crypto economy, blockchain and investments in digital assets.

4. Launch of educational video series on Day Trade.

The CVM launched an educational series on Day Trade, consisting of three videos presented by Paulo Portinho, Assistant Director of Financial Education and Inclusion, who explained the myths, truth, and the odds about Day Trade when used to generate income.

The first video presents the results of a joint research conducted in 2019 by the CVM and the Getúlio Vargas Foundation (FGV), which covered 130,000 people who carried out regular Day Trade operations between 2012 and 2017.

The second video in the series approaches the topic based on statistical theory (an experiment known as: “gambler's ruin”) and the third video comments on points that were not captured by research and theory, but that demonstrate the risks of carrying out Day Trade operations to complement or generate income.

The series is available on the @cvmeducacional account, on YouTube platform.
“The objective of this series is to show investors the risks of 'Day Trade for a living', as this practice of carrying out regular Day Trade operations to generate income is usually called. With information and knowledge, investors can better analyze the practice and make safer and more conscious decisions, without the influence of colleagues and third parties. It is very important to note that the series does not address other Day Trade strategies, such as swing trade, sporadic day trade, or long short strategies”.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC)
Other IOSCO members: n/a
Other participants: n/a

In order to improve investor literacy in securities and futures investment, deepen international exchanges and cooperation, and further consolidate the experience of investor education and protection, the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC), as a member of the IOSCO Committee 8, held the 2023 campaign for the World Investor Week (WIW) around the two themes of "investor resilience" and "sustainable finance" in October 2023, organizing all CSRC local bureaus and affiliated entities as well as relevant market entities to participate.

The campaign saw nearly 22,000 activities carried out and an accumulated participation of more than 42.92 million. Nearly 10,600 kinds of original investor education products were produced, 830,000 original physical investor education products were distributed, and over 545 million clicks were made on the electronic version of products, creating favorable educational results.

I. Organizing knowledge popularization activities focusing on investor resilience

The participating entities organized various publicity activities, to help investors enhance awareness against illegal securities and futures activities and get a better understanding of concepts such as investor appropriateness and rational investment. The aim is to guide investors to comprehensively know their rights, actively exercise their rights, and protect their rights according to law, so as to improve their overall experience investing in the market.

Firstly, display relevant risks to raise awareness. Special columns and investor education zones were set up to show common fraudulent activities such as stock recommendation by unqualified personnel, fabrication and dissemination of disinformation for market manipulation, as well as insider trading, through various forms such as comic and financial knowledge quizzes. Besides, special programs were co-produced with local radio and television stations and newspapers, and were transmitted through platforms such as social media, so that a broader audience could be reached and be alerted of those fraudulent risks.

Secondly, organize interactive sessions to further build capacities. Lectures, investor salons, fun pop quizzes and game events were organized to help investors build capacities such as risk identification. There were also trainings organized specially for dispute mediation, which were co-produced with local courts, to dive deep into real life dispute cases and help investors better grasp the ways of preventing such disputes. Also, case analysis were made around investors' exercise of rights so as to guide investors to protect their own rights in a lawful and orderly way.

Thirdly, organize activities targeted at investment appropriateness, echoing the relevant new requirements under the registration-based IPO reform in China’s capital market. Through symposiums, special training and other means, market institutions were guided to actively explain appropriateness related information to investors for them to better know the risks and protect themselves.
At the same time, animation videos were produced to help illustrate the newly emerged requirements and necessity of appropriateness matching due to the market-wide registration-based IPO reform, to guide investors to select financial products that match their own risk capacity, and further deepen the mindset of "Caveat Emptor".

Fourthly, embed investor education contents in the school curriculum. The CSRC has all along cooperated with universities to open courses relating to capital market investment and risk management. This time, the topics of 2023 WIW were also added to the relevant courses to help students further establish a correct view of financial investment and shun financial fraud risks.

Fifthly, extend the radius of publicity based on daily supervision and enforcement activities. The CSRC will guide relevant entities to conduct ongoing investor education in the process of case investigation and use typical cases for deterrence and education, so that the relevant parties involved in this process could all be covered by the educational activities.

II. Organizing activities centered on sustainable finance

Combining with the CSRC’s work on sustainable finance, the participating entities organized various investor education activities focusing on sustainable finance, such as popularization of relevant knowledge, organizing tours to listed companies in the green industry, and holding training sessions for investors on reading ESG reports of listed companies, so as to deepen the understanding and consensus of investors on China’s green finance.

Firstly, popularize knowledge on sustainable finance and enhance the awareness of green investment based on the overall logic of value investing. The organizers produced investor education products such as on-site posters to help investors understand the basic concepts and methods of ESG investment. Besides, listed companies, market institutions and ESG experts were invited together to discuss hot topics in this area, to help build up an industry consensus.

Secondly, organize tours to listed green companies and improve investor relations management in this area. The CSRC entities organized a series of activities under the project "Go Inside Listed Companies" to help investors understand the current situation of China's green industry development by communicating with company high management and paying on-site visits to production bases. They also organized several listed companies to convene ESG thematic training sessions, during which the companies answered questions from investors on ESG and other related issues, responded to some market concerns, and helped investors read social responsibility reports and ESG reports of listed companies.

Thirdly, produce green finance radio programs and promote the implementation of the concept of sustainable development. Focusing on four themes of "green finance", "green industry equity financing", "what is green bonds", and "the development of the green bond market", the CSRC, jointly with the Voice of Economy of CCTV (China Central Television), produced four issues of radio programs called "Into Green Finance", which made targeted explanations on the concept of green finance and its development mode, the development of green industry equity financing, and the characteristics of green bond products and their development. The accumulated tuning-in reached 1.6 million times.

III. Exploration of new models and themes for investor education

During the WIW, all the CSRC entities actively innovated the forms of investor education and carried out a series of special activities with high quality. For example:

(1) Cooperate with the CCTV Financial Program Center to jointly organize the "Voice of the Economy - Investor Education in 100 Cities" kick-off ceremony, where guests deeply discussed two major themes of "the status of China's investor education and the road to high-quality development", "investor resilience and sustainable finance";

(2) Echoing the 10th anniversary of "The Belt and Road Initiative", in multiple educative sessions, the role of the capital market in serving the high-quality development of "The Belt and Road Initiative" was highlighted;

(3) Cooperating with Xinhua Distribution Group, the CSRC invited university professors and chief editors of financial publications to recommend financial books for investors, focusing on topics of "investor's risk resilience" and "the impact of financial thinking on investors".

(4) Go into the communities to carry out "Chongyang Festival" (traditional Chinese festival for the elderly) activities, to offer special help to the elderly groups to be vigilant to financial scams such as those conducted in the name of "elderly life support", and guard their "money bags" safe.

Going ahead, the CSRC will persistently popularize the knowledge of securities and futures investment, strengthen the exchange and sharing of investor education experience, and continuously enhance investors' trust and confidence in the market.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: Gibraltar Financial Services Commission (GFSC)
Other IOSCO members: n/a
Other participants: n/a

This year’s GFSC participation in World Investor Week (WIW) began on Monday the 6th of November and concluded on Friday 10th of November.

Utilizing the GFSC’s social media platform and Gibraltar’s press outlets, we effectively promoted key messages regarding scam awareness and our event to the public. Our promotional efforts spanned on various social media channels including Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. As well as advertising through numerous local press mediums such as TV and newspapers to promote our “Think SMART” messaging (please refer to the attached poster).

We carried out a 60-minute presentation at the University of Gibraltar, primarily attended by senior citizens eager to enhance their awareness of scams and their identifying traits. Alongside the seminar, we organized a tea and coffee service, fostering discussions on scams and offering participants an opportunity to ask questions.

Our presentation aimed to reach a broad demographic, emphasizing that susceptibility to fraud knows no age boundaries or level of awareness. We covered diverse topics such as cyber security, safe online shopping practices, recognizing red flags, identifying clone websites, and avoiding scams.

During the tea and coffee session, we displayed numerous posters and leaflets to provide attendees with additional insights into scams and precautionary measures. Furthermore, we distributed notepads (incorporating our "Think SMART" message) and pencils, complemented by a focused information leaflet.

Through the course of this week, we published 3 different posts on social media to advertise our event and keep our consumers informed. We also circulated one of our infographics encouraging individuals to ‘Think SMART’.

Furthermore, the Gibraltar Chronicle published an article during WIW, accompanied by a poster which advertised our event. The featured article was an interview with our Director of Specialist Regulation, Heidi Bocarisa, and Business Delivery Officer, Lauren Sacramento who gave insight into the purpose of WIW and what we would be doing as a jurisdiction throughout the week. We also had an interview with GBC (Gibraltar’s Broadcasting Corporation) to promote our event and encourage individuals to come to our seminar, while also discussing our objectives for this year’s WIW.

The 2023 World Investor Week seminar proved highly successful, engaging an enthusiastic audience eager to deepen their understanding of scams. Overall, the feedback received from consumers throughout our campaign was positive.

ITALY
The 7th edition of the World Investor Week (WIW) in Italy has been celebrated with a number of initiatives mainly held between Monday 2 October and Friday 6 October 2023. In light of the high level of flexibility allowed in organizing the WIW, participants have been also given the opportunity to choose a different week or period within the month of October, exploiting any synergies with the Italian ‘Financial Education Month’ (“FEM”).

The FEM, held in October every year, is promoted by the National Committee for the planning and coordination of financial education activities (“Edufin Committee”). The Edufin Committee has been established in 2017 to promote and plan awareness-raising campaigns as well as financial education initiatives and plays a crucial role in laying down and implementing the National Strategy for Financial Education in Italy.

As usual, during the FEM and the WIW 2023, CONSOB has operated in tight connection with the Edufin Committee, contributing to the planned activities jointly with the other members. CONSOB has also collaborated with historical WIW partners, namely “Associazione dei Docenti di Economia degli Intermediari e dei Mercati Finanziari e Finanza d'Impresa” (ADEIMF), “Associazione Nazionale Consulenti Finanziari” (ANASF), “Fondazione per l'Educazione Finanziaria e al Risparmio” (Feduf), “Global Thinking Foundation”, “Museo del Risparmio”, “Qfinlab - Politecnico di Milano”, as well as with a number of Italian Universities affiliated with CONSOB.

The calendar for 2023 contained about 30 streaming and in-person events and CONSOB organised or participated in most of them, reaching tens of cities and thousands of recipients (from primary and secondary school students, to university students, adults and women). Most initiatives have covered thematic areas like financial scams and illegal acts, investment in times of crisis, sustainability and digital innovation as well as financial control tools (e.g. financial planning and budgeting), contributing to prevent financial vulnerabilities and coping with challenging times (in line with the concept of 'smart investor').

During the FEM and the WIW 2023, CONSOB proposed both consolidated and recently defined initiatives. With regard to the latter, it is worth mentioning the launch of the modular training course organized by CONSOB in cooperation with the University of Insubria and dedicated to Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs), aimed at increasing knowledge of basics and tools useful for encouraging access to the market by SMEs. This also in connection with the evolution of the context and the opportunities offered by digitalisation and the transition towards a model of an economic, more sustainable development.
Moreover, CONSOB designed two new educational programs, based on edutainment: one dedicated to distributed ledger technology and crypto-assets and the other to sustainability and sustainable finance.

The first one, called ‘The moment is cryptic’ and developed under a format called “Finance on stage”, is a theatre piece where the title plays on the Italian words ‘critico’ that means ‘critical’ and ‘cripto’ that means ‘crypto’), and provide some useful tips for recognising risk associated with crypto and online scams (resilience to the risks of new form of investments).

The second, called “Due parole sulla sostenibilità (A couple of words on sustainability)” is a show-conference which specifically addresses how climate change and respect for workers' rights can be related to finance and investments. CONSOB and Taxi 1729, a scientific dissemination company, talk about sustainability and provide the audience with a basic glossary to navigate the world of sustainable finance.

Finally, Consob organized a global WIW webinar on sustainable finance in the context of investor education and investor protection, with the support of the IOSCO Secretariat, to provide the audience with a fresh update about the landscape and the evolution of the sustainable investments markets after the publication of IOSCO report on sustainable finance and investor education on 31 August 2022, especially from the angle of retail investors, and with some possible tips.

Other participants: Japan Exchange Group (JPX)

In Japan, this year’s World Investor Week (WIW) was held from October 2-8. One of the characteristics of Japan’s initiatives during the World Investor Week 2023 campaign is the active participation of SROs, namely the Japan Securities Dealers Association (JSDA) and Japan Exchange Group (JPX).

1. Japan Securities Dealers Association (JSDA)

In 2023, the JSDA actively participated and cooperated in the World Investor Week Campaign through the following activities:

- Creation of a special website and requesting cooperation from Association Members

  The JSDA created a website introducing World Investor Week, and through it, widely disseminated the campaign. In addition, the JSDA created a WIW banner in Japanese and requested its Association Members to cooperate in the World Investor Week campaign by widely using the banner as well.

- Educational activities for young investors

  The JSDA created a special website in order to provide inexperienced investors and uninterested people, particularly members of the young generation, with an opportunity to get to know about securities investment.

- Preventing investment scams

In order to prevent investment scams, the JSDA has been and continues to conduct public awareness campaigns directed at general consumers and investors that call attention to their potential risk of becoming victims of investment fraud, through strengthening our collaboration with the police, government authorities, and association members.

For more information, please see https://www.jsda.or.jp/anshin/inv_alerts/toushisagi/campaign.html (Japanese)

2. Japan Exchange Group (JPX)

JPX has a long history of providing financial and economic education, and from April 2022, to further strengthen our activities, we launched a new brand called "JPX Manebu Lab". Under this brand, various programs for working adults and students are systematically organized into five "Manebu" streams, and we are developing our activities under this new structure.

"Manebu" is a play on two words: the English 'money' and the Japanese word "manabu" meaning 'to learn'.
On October 4, which was Securities Investment Day in Japan during World Investor Week, JPX released the first activity report on its financial and economic education activities: the "JPX Manebu Lab" Report 2023.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: Bank of Lithuania
Other IOSCO members: n/a
Other participants: Association of Lithuanian Banks, Financial Freedom Forum, Nasdaq Vilnius, Invega, Vytautas Magnus University, Šiauliai Academy.

A survey by the Bank of Lithuania showed that as many as a quarter of Lithuanian residents involved in investing activities do not check whether they are purchasing a financial product from a legally operating company. Therefore, seeking to educate the public about safe investing, the Bank of Lithuania joined the World Investor Week 2023 (WIW) and invited people to learn or remember the basic rules of investing. The Bank of Lithuania created a special subpage on its website, organized an online seminar, prepared a test to check one’s knowledge of investing and a guide on how to avoid giving one’s money away to scammers, as well as delivered a presentation to the investor community.

The World Investor Week was celebrated in Lithuania from 23 to 29 October 2023.

• Special page on the Bank of Lithuania’s website

The Centre for Financial Literacy of the Bank of Lithuania prepared the program which was published on the special subpage for the World Investor Week 2023 on the Bank of Lithuania’s website (www.lb.lt). Each part of the program had its own section.

• TV coverage of the World Investor Week 2023

The WIW 2023 initiative and its events, activities and the investment situation in Lithuania were presented live on one of the most popular Lithuanian TV shows Good morning, Lithuania. The audience reached during this show was more than 250,000 people.

• Knowledge test: how much do I know about investing?

This anonymous test helped people in Lithuania to assess what they already knew about investing and what they still needed to learn more about. The test attracted a lot of public attention both during the WIW and after the event. Over 1,700 completed the test and some people are still taking it.
• Online seminar “Measure twice, invest once”.

The aim of the seminar is to provide knowledge and information for those who are considering investing now or in the future. The seminar participants learned: the 3 fundamental laws that guide smart investors; the real risks involved in investing in different instruments; how to spot investment scams; what to do if you do fall into a scam. More than 1,200 people viewed the seminar.

In Lithuania, studies and stories of people’s encounters with fraudsters show that many problems are caused by people’s lack of resilience to fraudsters: both the number of people defrauded and the amount of money lost are on the rise. Investment fraud is particularly high. Therefore, the Centre for Financial Literacy of the Bank of Lithuania has prepared and presented through the WIW a memo on the most important steps to avoid falling for a scam.

• Presentation at the conference “Financial Freedom Forum”

It is one of the largest events in Lithuania dedicated to enhancing financial literacy and investment knowledge. In this event, Dr Viktorija Dičpinigaitienė, Head of the Centre for Financial Literacy of the Bank of Lithuania, gave a presentation “Does Financial Literary (Not) Work?”. She says: “To start investing, you first need to remember the 5-finger rule: knowledge, practice, emotions, habits, purpose and meaning.”

• Partners’ activities

A growing number of organizations, universities and other institutions are focusing on the topics of financial literacy and investment. The partners celebrated the WIW by organizing a financial literacy exam, workshops on financial innovations and investment rules, discussions on crypto-assets, etc.

As in previous years, the CMVM’s coordination of WIW2023 took place in close cooperation with twelve relevant stakeholders of the Portuguese financial sector. CMVM believes that the partnership with these entities enriches the experience and maximizes the dissemination of key messages to investors.

While developing this year’s program, two main topics guided our choices: (i) the importance of savings and the role capital markets can play and (ii) the importance of digital channels and tools in financial investment and innovation, and the underlying challenges to investors. These considerations led to the WIW2023 slogan “Save for the future, invest with innovation”.

Following CMVM’s guidance, the partners were invited to organize their own events under CMVM’s coordination. In the 2023 edition, twenty-eight events were organized, the majority of which in digital format.

All information concerning events and partners in 2023 is available on our WIW dedicated site. The website also has a link to the YouTube channel, where most of the events were streamed. In this context, the FSA implements financial education programs and actions for all target groups, from children and students to adults and consumers specific to non-banking financial markets.

Given the current highly dynamic and competitive nature of financial markets, financial education is becoming increasingly important to shape healthy financial behaviors with the ultimate goal of well-being. SINGAPORE
WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS)

Other IOSCO members: The Singapore Exchange Limited

Campaign Dates (From/To): 7 Oct – 26 Oct 2023

MoneySense, Singapore’s national financial education program, celebrated its 20th Anniversary this year. As part of the celebration, MoneySense organized a month-long financial education series of events which included a Seminar, Town Hall and a Webinar during the World Investor Week (WIW).

The series of events aimed to enhance investors’ knowledge so that they can make more informed investment decisions in line with their needs and risk appetites.

“Ready for Life” Festival Seminar

The launch of WIW on 7 October 2023 was marked by the “Ready for Life” Festival which was jointly organized with CPF. The festival aimed to inspire Singaporeans to re-imagine retirement and plan for it holistically, guiding them on how daily financial decisions today will help achieve their desired state of retirement in the future. Besides panel discussions on financial wellness topics such as financial planning and investment, the in-person event also included partners-led activities (e.g. workshops and booths) to showcase various wellness dimensions of retirement planning.

During the Festival, the investment talk segment covered important aspects for investors to consider in building a resilient investment portfolio in times of inflation. The 90 min segment started with global trends and market outlook as a backdrop for the key investment trends in the year ahead. This was followed by presentations on various asset classes that can build a balanced portfolio, tips on how to build a resilient portfolio, and ESG investing.

A Basic Financial Planning Guide, developed by MAS and industry associations to help Singaporeans take charge of their financial well-being, was unveiled on the same day. It outlines a few rules of thumb people should adopt when addressing the key aspects of a holistic financial plan, namely, emergency funds, insurance protection, investment, and legacy planning.

The seminar ended with a panel discussion on the topic “Building Investor Resilience in Times of Inflation” where panelists shared important aspects that investors should look out for in building a portfolio that is resilient in a volatile market.
In addition to the presentations, our booth partners shared information and resources on financial related matters ranging from dispute resolution to scams. Participants could browse the booths prior to the start of event and during the breaks, with the booths covering information on:

- How the Financial Industry Disputes Resolution Centre Ltd can help to resolve disputes between a consumer and the financial institution;
- Educating and improving understanding of investment knowledge by Investment Management Association of Singapore;
- Why credit reports are important;
- Tips on how-to see-through investment scams; and
- Free financial literacy talks and courses offered by MoneySense’s ground outreach arm, the Institute for Financial Literacy, with the opportunity to do a one-to-one consultation with a financial practitioner on steps to improve financial health.

The investment talk was physically attended by close to 500 participants, with the recording of the event hosted on CPFB’s Facebook page to allow it to be accessible to more audience.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: Financial Sector Conduct Authority (FSCA), South Africa

Other IOSCO members: n/a

Other participants: National Business Solutions (NBS), City of Tshwane, National Credit Regulator (NCR), Small Medium and Micro Enterprises (SMMEs), South Africa

1. Background

World Investor Week (WIW) is a week-long global campaign which aims to promote investor education and investor protection. It is an initiative organised by the International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) that is made up of 34 securities regulators member organisations. During this week, members and stakeholders across the different continents embark on a range of activities, such as offering investor-focused information and services to increase awareness of investor education initiatives, organising workshops and conferences. WIW took place from the 3rd to 8th of October 2023.

WIW offers a unique opportunity for IOSCO members to work in collaboration with investor education and protection stakeholders, at both local and international levels. The WIW campaign focused on three main themes: Investor Resilience, Crypto Assets, and Sustainable Finance, which the IOSCO Board has identified as particularly relevant given the current and expected global market conditions. Other themes cover Fraud and Scam Prevention, Basics of Investing, Technology and Digital Finance.

In celebrating WIW 2023, the FSCA has undertaken various activities to raise awareness and promote investments amongst consumers and investors. The aim of this project was to raise awareness of the importance of investor education focusing on crypto assets and how to protect investors from scams.

2. The objectives of this project were:
   - To promote financial literacy and investor education.
   - To educate investors and possible investors about investments in crypto assets.
   - To raise awareness of the scams in investments.

3. Activities implemented

The FSCA conducted the following activities in celebration of the WIW 2023:

3.1 Workshops
   - The FSCA conducted two workshops targeted at Small, Medium and Micro Enterprises (SMMEs) in Hammanskraal, North-West province, South Africa, from the 3rd to the 8th of October 2023.
The workshops covered the following topics: Crypto Currency as well as Investment Fraud and Scams. The session had speakers from the FSCA, the City of Joburg (CoJ), Small Enterprise Development Agency (SEDA) as well as the National Credit Regulator (NCR). The target group for this session was the SMMEs as well as individual entrepreneurs. A total of 91 (ninety-one) representatives from various SMMEs attended the workshops. Below are images of various activities for WIW:

3.2 Radio Interview:

The FSCA conducted an interview on Moretele community radio stations which covers 52 villages around the Northwest province. The interview focused on the importance of investments and ways to protect investments. Approximately 150 000 listeners were reached.

3.3 Webinar in collaboration with the Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE)

On the 4th of October, the FSCA in collaboration with the Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE) organised an online seminar, highlighting the importance of investments and how to invest in the JSE. A total of 101 participants attended the webinar.

4. Social Media Posts about Investments

As part of the WIW, the FSCA disseminated key messages on various social media platforms to raise awareness, promote financial literacy and foster learning opportunities for Investors.

The social media platforms used was LinkedIn, Facebook, and Twitter as per the social media handles below:

5. Monitoring and Evaluation

The internal M&E team designed a questionnaire which was circulated to participants for completion before and after the workshop. Below is a summary of responses from participants:

The success of the Programme was informed by the extent to which the content was relevant to the participants’ needs.

Targeted Participants: The workshop was targeted at the SMMEs and entrepreneurs, and indeed based on the attendance registers all the participants were SMMEs and emerging entrepreneurs.

Attendance registers: The total number of participants that attended the face-to-face workshop exceeded the expected target number.

The participants indicated that they learned new Information with regards to the scams, and how they can protect their investments.

6. Challenges

Managing Stakeholder Expectations, some of the stakeholders have different motives for participating in the project, therefore it is important to manage their expectations and participation to ensure that the objective of the project is not derailed and diverted.

Technology and availability of resources, some of the stakeholders based in rural areas do not have resources such as projectors and screens and this necessitated alternative means of delivering the message.

Participation by the SMMEs in workshops, many of the SMMEs representatives happens to be busy with their business and from time to time they ask to be excused to attend to one matter or the other.

Not having enough capacity for M&E, it is important to allocate funding towards M&E, especially from outside the organization, so that we can be able to monitor the effectiveness of our project, and to regularly assess and identify successes and areas where improvements can be made.

7. Recommendation

The implementation of investor education workshops has been successful and there is still more that needs to be done to inform and educate the consumers.

Here are some recommendations based on the implementation.

— Planning for resources: When conducting workshops in rural areas, one must improvise and where possible plan for presentation tools such as overhead projectors and screen.

— Continuous stakeholder engagement throughout the year - This will get the stakeholders on board in a timely manner and avoid stakeholders from “rolling off” and then mobilizing again.
– To have this workshop seminar engagements with SMME’s and Entrepreneurs, not as a once of activity but to have it continually on certain intervals.

8. Conclusion

Over the past years, there has been an incredible growth and development in offering financial and investor education, and this is because the financial education stakeholders have been in good positions to not only develop the quality of education, but also the strategies through which investor education will be promoted.

However, there is still more that has to be done, for example, lack of project monitoring and progress tracking can hamper the delivery of the project, deliverables, and quality. Issues such as managing stakeholders’ expectations from the beginning such as allowing inputs from everyone involved, it helps for the smooth running of the project. Making sure that one commits enough time to project planning and stakeholder involvement. taking the time to reflect on a project’s success. Commit time to project and resource planning. With all this being put in place it will consumers will have more knowledge about investments and how they can protect their investments.

UNITED STATES
WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: United States, Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)

Other IOSCO members: Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), National Futures Association (NFA), and Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC)

Other participants: North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA)

Noteworthy activities and accomplishments:

On October 2, the SEC issued a press release announcing it would highlight due diligence during World Investor Week (WIW) 2023, especially with arising technologies and new digital tools making it easier and quicker to invest. During WIW, SEC staff throughout the country hosted outreach events highlighting the importance that investors: conduct their own research on investment opportunities; create a risk-appropriate, long-term, and diversified investment plan that can help them weather changing economic conditions and market fluctuations; establish an emergency fund; and learn how to spot fraud. The Director of the SEC’s Office of Investor Education and Advocacy (OIEA), Lori Schock, also posted a new Director’s Take article, “Protecting Your Retirement Money,” which provides investors with tips on how to protect their hard-earned money, such as checking the background of their investment professional, asking questions about investment opportunities, knowing the red flags of fraud, and avoiding unsolicited phone calls, texts, and emails from anyone asking for money. In addition, OIEA, FINRA, CFTC, NFA, SIPC and NASAA published a joint Investor Bulletin to provide information about the three themes of WIW: investor resilience, crypto assets and sustainable finance.

FINRA and the FINRA Investor Education Foundation also actively promoted WIW through participation in and hosting of events and professional trainings, social media posts aligned with WIW key messages, and the release of investor-focused research. This included collaboration with AARP to host a World Investor Week Tele-Town Hall discussing financial fraud and smart investing with thousands of Americans from the state of Washington. The FINRA Foundation also partnered with First Nations Development Institute to train tribal leaders and the BBB Institute for Marketplace Trust to train community-based Better Business Bureaus to spot, avoid, and assist others in preventing financial fraud. FINRA and the FINRA Foundation regularly shared tips and resources via Facebook, X (Twitter), and LinkedIn throughout the month of October in support of WIW. With regard to research, the FINRA Foundation and Texas Tech University released a study exploring the relationship between investing knowledge and the investing fees investors report paying. Finally, the FINRA Foundation awarded Doug Shadel, Ph.D., the 2023 Ketchum Prize—it’s highest honor—in recognition of his outstanding service and research on protecting consumers, particularly vulnerable Americans.

The CFTC hosted “Technology and Fraud: Stopping Scams in a Digital World,” a two-hour virtual event on October 4.
The event consisted of two panels. The first, “Exploring Effective Social Media Investment Scam Interventions,” covered the rapid growth of social media investment fraud, how platforms contribute to the scams’ effectiveness, and ways educators, regulators, and other stakeholders can develop interventions to combat social media frauds. Panelists included state and federal fraud enforcement experts as well as a Massachusetts Institute of Technology researcher who focuses on disinformation interventions and a psychologist who specializes in elder fraud. The second panel, “Is AI for Investors Road-Ready?” focused on the capabilities and risks associated with artificial intelligence in trading and other financial services, and safeguards customers and stakeholders should consider. Panelists included experts from the CFTC, FINRA, and the CEO of an AI reliability platform.

More than 140 people from the United States and about 20 other countries participated in the virtual event, which can be viewed at https://www.cftc.gov/LearnAndProtect/videos/index.htm.

As part of WIW, NFA and the CFTC held a free webinar on October 5 entitled “Recent Fraud Trends and Tips for Avoiding Them” to help investors recognize the warning signs of investment fraud. SIPC highlighted WIW on its public website and promoted two Investor Bulletins that it jointly published with OIEA to help educate investors on SIPC protection for brokerage accounts. The first Investor Bulletin provides investors with an overview of how SIPC protection works and what it protects. The second Investor Bulletin provides investors with an overview of the process to file a SIPC claim.

WORLD INVESTOR WEEK 2023

National Coordinator: International Federation of Accountants (IFAC)

As the global voice of the accounting profession, IFAC understands that promoting financial literacy is essential to our mandate to serve the public interest. Grasping the fundamentals of accounting allows non-accountants to understand the ways in which accounting intersects with their own experiences, financial and professional. IFAC’s engagement with IOSCO’s World Investor Week was formed out of this desire to enhance the financial literacy of non-accountants by providing accessible information about how and where accounting and investing intersect, given IFAC’s unique area of expertise.

In 2021, for IOSCO’s World Investor Week event, IFAC produced a video entitled “Understanding ESG Reporting” to help break down how sustainable finance is reported and regulated. The video became the IFAC YouTube channel’s most-watched video of all time, making it clear that there is demand for video content that clearly and concisely conveys accounting basics.

For World Investor Week 2022, IFAC created three new videos explaining evergreen accounting concepts so that they can be understood by first-time and lifelong investors alike. They aim to provide an overview of the services provided by accountants and tools used by accountants.

- What is a Financial Statement?
- What is an Audit?
- What is Professional Accountancy?

For World Investor Week 2023, IFAC added two new videos to this series that explain the fundamental accounting concept of assurance in basic terms and in the context of sustainability. With a better understanding of assurance, and the increasingly important area of sustainability assurance, investors (as well as the general public/potential investors) will have a more well-rounded understanding of potential investments, which in turn can help to foster trust in the accountancy profession.

- What is Assurance?
- What is Sustainability Assurance?

As in previous years, the videos were published on YouTube, and then promoted on the IFAC website.
They were also promoted by IFAC’s LinkedIn account in two separate posts (Post 1, Post 2). Sharing the videos on IFAC’s LinkedIn expanded the audience of the videos to its 40,000+ followers on the social media platform, and the videos individually gathered around 3,000 organic impressions each. They had a number of likes and reposts from IFAC followers, helping to further the reach of the content outside of IFAC’s direct influence.
In support of this global campaign led by the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) to raise awareness about the importance of investor education, IFAC is excited to share “What is Assurance?”, the first of two videos released in celebration of World Investor Week. In this video, IFAC Board Member Ayse ALAMAK highlights the vital role accounting professionals play in ensuring the accuracy of information, providing investors peace of mind.

In 2023, IFAC formally changed its relationship with IOSCO by becoming an Affiliate Member of IOSCO. As the sole representative of the accountancy profession within the IOSCO membership, IFAC is now in a unique position to bring the voice of the global accountancy profession to IOSCO, its activities and its membership. IFAC now participates in the IOSCO Affiliate Member Consultative Committee and attends the IOSCO Annual General Meeting.
International Forum for Investor Education (IFIE)
BACKGROUND

In 2014, at the International Forum for Investor Education (IFIE) – IOSCO Global Investor Education Conference: “Applying Theory to Action–Implementing Financial Capability/Investor Education (FC/IE) Best Practices and Lessons Learned”, held in Washington, DC, the seeds for a new way for securities and other financial regulators from different jurisdictions to collaborate to address shared FC/IE needs were planted. Several Caribbean jurisdictions and other IOSCO Growth and Emerging Market Committee members proposed that IFIE and the IFIE Americas Working Group organize a pilot program for members to work on FC/IE content and delivery basics, to discuss common critical priorities, and to explore what they might be able to implement together to mitigate some of the constraints that hindered implementation and sustainable initiatives. The pilot program commenced near the end of 2014 with a Caribbean region-centered membership. The successful pilot resulted in the formation of the IFIE Americas Chapter Caribbean Working Group (CWG) which has continued to work together over the past nine years, focused on the implementation of FC/IE initiatives, and finding ways to collaborate to deliver sustainable FC/IE programs.

2023 IFIE CWG SHOWCASE

For 2023, the CWG’s strategic focus was to review its financial capability, resilience and investor education programs and strategies against needs coming out of the COVID-19 pandemic, and to strengthen our strategies, programs and initiatives as our jurisdictions and the region fully emerged in the past year. This included looking at content, initiatives to serve emerging audiences or the needs of our existing constituencies, and starting to work on strategies and initiatives that serve our goals and mission going forward.

As a result of this review, the CWG is pleased to provide a regional description showcase by each CWG jurisdiction of highlights, strengths, learnings and programming strategies that together build our platforms to serve the financial capability, financial resilience and investor education needs across the Caribbean. The “showcase” only presents some of the work the CWG has done individually or collaboratively; however, it suggests paths forward as the world emerges from the pandemic and our region seeks to serve those who live here.
SECURITIES COMMISSION OF THE BAHAMAS (SCB)

The Securities Commission of The Bahamas continues to actively promote investor education and financial literacy through knowledge and skill building programs. Some of the most impactful initiatives included the launch of two video series featuring trusted local sources, highlighting tried and proven methods to financial resilience and wealth building, and the use of video competitions to engage with target audiences and leverage their peer networks to share messages. The SCB continues to focus on leveraging the power of social and digital media to reach target groups with an ongoing focus on frauds and scams prevention and awareness of the risks of crypto assets for retail investors.

“How I did it!” video trilogy launched for WIW 2018 (sample: https://www.scb.gov.bs/investor-media/how-i-did-it-sir-franklyn-wilson/)

The Commission also conducted a pilot study, in partnership with the Ministry of Education, into enhancing financial literacy and investor education through the national curriculum.

FINANCIAL SERVICES COMMISSION BARBADOS (FSC)

Barbados FSC continues its initiatives to develop partnerships to implement its financial literacy and investor education agenda. Barbados also has been a leader in investigating how to address issues related to the impact of changes in climate.

FINANCIAL SERVICES COMMISSION BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS (BVIFSC)

BVIFSC continues its initiatives to build solid foundations of relevant knowledge with the voices and experiences of young people to strengthen their money management and investing skills and knowledge. After the challenges of the past few years, BVIFSC is bringing awareness to young people about the benefits, detriments, and regulatory impact of investing with a particular focus on making sure young people understand financial products and services as they are structured and regulated in the Caribbean region since some young people consuming media from other jurisdictions may tend to assume universal applicability of rules and contexts.

CAYMAN ISLANDS MONETARY AUTHORITY (CIMA)

CIMA created a Young Ambassador event for students going abroad to university so they would understand more about the economy and markets of the Cayman Islands. The popular and meaningful event evolved into an annual networking and recruiting event for financial services related employment for young professionals in the Cayman Islands.
CENTRALE BANK OF CURAÇAO AND SINT MAARTEN (CBCS)

The CBCS has created two programs that have been particularly useful models to replicate and adapt: first, the creation of an illustrated narrative of episodes featuring the hypothetical Family Florin suitable for traditional media platforms that highlights contemporary money management situations, experiences and lessons to be learned; second, the CBCS has focused on understanding and supporting the entrepreneurial skill and knowledge needs of young entrepreneurs wanting to start or grow small and family owned businesses on both islands including technical information, surveys and customized skill building workshops and conferences. https://www.centralbank.cw/education

SIMV has shown creative ways of working with educational institutions including university professors and departments to strengthen the quality and availability of effective financial literacy and investor education knowledge, skills and concepts suitable for public outreach and awareness. SIMV also brings in additional partners for more effective information distribution and program outreach.

EAST CARIBBEAN SECURITIES REGULATORY COMMISSION (ECSRC)

As the securities regulator for eight East Caribbean countries, ECSRC has demonstrated effective ways to work regionally, continue to develop programs and strategies to meet emerging financial literacy and investor education needs of residents of the eight jurisdictions and worked to implement effective training and tools to staff them. Initiatives such as crowdfunding and partnerships strengthen the effectiveness of ECSRC’s regional approach.

FINANCIAL SECURITIES COMMISSION OF JAMAICA (FSC JAMAICA)

FSC Jamaica has long focused on the financial education and entrepreneurship needs of the country’s young people, both at schools and in the community. This has included focus on professional training for teachers and other adults who work in community programs. Recognizing the emerging challenges and needs of young people and communities created by the pandemic, FSC Jamaica also has an ongoing initiative to strengthen public understanding of what sources of information can be trusted related to investment and financial information, products and services.

TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION (TTSEC)

TTSEC uses new and traditional media to build knowledge, skills and behavior for long-term personal financial wellbeing and has ongoing initiatives to educate investors about sources of financial investment information, products and services that can be trusted. Top recent examples of their work:
1) Knowledge and Skill building:

As additional components of its initiative for WIW 2023, CWG members have also looked to develop and adapt content on social and traditional media platforms to address emerging needs across the region and pilot program delivery templates that might serve new public financial capability and investor education needs that emerged during the pandemic.

Going green is a trend which might soon take the lion’s share in the retail financial markets. The diffusion of sustainable investment products within retail investors is expected on the rise in the coming years, following an intense debate about their main benefits and challenges and related regulatory proposals. The webinar gathered a group of experts to talk about sustainable finance and to provide the audience with some key messages about the state-of-the-art and the possible evolution, in particular from the angle of investor protection and investor education. International standard setters (IOSCO and OECD) and the industry (EFAMA and WFE) will share their thoughts and views about the present and the future of the retail sustainable investments’ markets.
2023 was a year marked by a range of events having an impact, both on financial markets and on the financial behavior of many investors. In this unique context, the resilience of investors has been put to the test. This webinar has brought together a group of experts who shed light on recent initiatives and surveys related to investor resilience and financial well-being. Distinguished speakers covered the Investor Resilience in the context of Regulatory response (ASIC), financial well-being recent work at the OECD, some recent FINRA Foundation research showing that new investors who joined the markets in 2020 remained active investors during a volatile period (2020-2022), and the role of professional financial planning as a pathway to improving financial resilience (Financial Resilience Institute).
Financial Planning Standards Board Ltd. (FPSB) joined the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) to raise awareness of, and promote financial literacy, during IOSCO’s World Investor Week.
