IOSCO and Cambridge Judge Business School collaborate on a machine-learning pilot to assist emerging markets regulators

The International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) and Cambridge Judge Business School announced today a pilot project for the development of a Machine Assisted Capacity Building for Standards Implementation ('MASI').

MASI aims to provide a capacity building tool for emerging markets jurisdictions to assist self-assessments against the IOSCO core principles and to facilitate comparisons with other regulatory frameworks from more developed jurisdictions.

NOTES TO THE EDITORS

1. IOSCO is the leading international policy forum for securities regulators and is recognized as the global standard setter for securities regulation. The organisation's membership regulates more than 95% of the world's securities markets in some 130 jurisdictions.
2. IOSCO aims through its permanent structures:
  - to cooperate in developing, implementing and promoting internationally recognized and consistent standards of regulation, oversight and enforcement to protect investors, maintain fair, efficient and transparent markets, and seek to address systemic risks;
  - to enhance investor protection and promote investor confidence in the integrity of securities markets, through strengthened information exchange and cooperation in enforcement against misconduct and in supervision of markets and market intermediaries; and
  - to exchange information at both global and regional levels on their respective experiences to assist the development of markets, strengthen market infrastructure and implement appropriate regulation.
